

GRADUATES OF AGGIE COLLEGE

Commencement Is Held at Logan.

Six Students Receive Diplomas for Agricultural Course.

Others in Departments Which Belong to University or Regular College.

Special to The Tribune.

LOGAN, Utah, June 1.—This was the great day at the college. Today Melvin Clarence Merrill and Joseph Edward Taylor were graduated from the agricultural course; Blanche E. Caine, Ella Maughan, Hazel Love and May E. Rudolph were graduated from the domestic science department. The commercial department sent out James E. Barrack, John T. Fredrickson, John L. Coburn and Samuel G. Rich. In civil engineering, Richard S. Ballantyne, James H. Smith, James Jarvis and John H. Tuttle were graduated. While in mechanical engineering graduation was given to Eugene S. Pierce. The general science department graduated Vernon P. Howman, Charles W. Porter, Eva Farr and Roy E. Rudolph.

Certificates of Graduation.

Certificates of graduation were given to John Stephens, Edna H. Maughan, Joseph A. Erickson, Aaron B. Olson, Nellie Deschamps, Willard Gardner, Abraham W. McKinnon, Joseph E. Mortenson, Robert A. Payne, Mattie Barson, Nellie Bennett, Melissa Bybee, Nora Egbert, Louvenia E. Taylor, Edna E. Smith, Mrs. Alice Tomlinson, Orin E. McClellan and Austin H. Shaw.

These young people come from various sections, two from Garfield, Teton, and many of their friends and parents have come to Logan to witness this final step in their education.

Who Speakers Were.

Those who appeared in this morning's exercises were Gov. Cutler and Utah's apostle Senator, Reed Smoot. The students gave some address and among them was a speech by Mr. Porter on "The Sphere of the Land-Grant College." In this speech Mr. Porter attacked with some vehemence the live questions at issue between the University and Agricultural college matters in this State. The rest of the exercises were those that are usual to the closing exercises at any large school, with this exception. The Governor of the State, Gov. Cutler, read a speech in which some very strong statements were made in defense of the position taken by the executive of this State in regard to these matters. The Governor said:

Gov. Cutler's Address.

It is expected that all concerned shall work together for the accomplishment of the best interests of this college. There should be no pulling apart, no selection of personal ambitions or theories as to the objects for which we are laboring here. In educational matters, as in all other things, union is the great means of accomplishment and progress. Regarding differences of opinion as to the policy and scope of the Agricultural college, I wish to say here that the law under which the college was founded and is sustained must determine its policy.

Object of the College.

He then read section 274 of the Revised Statutes of Utah, 1908. Continuing, he said:

You will perceive from that quotation and from section 287 that there is no real ground for difference of opinion as to the work of the college and the nature of the service expected from it. It is to teach, first and foremost, agricultural science and kindred subjects. That is the one reason for the existence of the institution. Without that purpose, the Government and the State would not expend the money necessary to support the college, because other institutions in the state are founded for the purpose of teaching the other branches.

No Sectional Prejudice.

No sectional prejudices are to be encouraged and no particular section of the State is to be looked after to the exclusion of other.

PUBLIC PERIL IN SOAP

Vile and Worthless Imitations of Munyon's Witch Hazel Soap Menace the People's Health.

Diseased Fats, Biting Alkalies and the Impure Refuse of Slaughter Houses Made Over Into Soap Which Is Offered for a Few Pennies Under the Misleading Name Witch Hazel Soap.

Munyon's Witch Hazel Soap is pure enough to eat. It is composed of the finest medicaments, unguents and vegetable products. In addition to an extract of witch hazel which possesses a strength greater than that of any other extract ever made, it contains other properties which in their nature must absolutely soften and beautify the skin, eradicate blackheads, pimples and similar eruptions, and cure skin disorders. It is the sweetest and best toilet soap made. That is why millions of cakes have been sold since its first appearance on the market.

That, also, is why scores of imitators have endeavored to reap the benefit of its popularity by making up some miserable substitute, giving it the magic name, "Witch Hazel Soap," and selling it at a price which indicates that it is composed of only the cheapest and most harmful ingredients.

Prof. Munyon says he has analyzed twenty-one different makes of so-called Witch Hazel Soap, and in none has he found the slightest trace of this great curative agent.

On the other hand, he asks the public to stop for one moment and ask themselves the question: "What becomes of the diseased cattle which die in the slaughter-houses?" What becomes of the rotten carcasses that are unfit for parts. All the institutions of the State belong to the State as a whole. I say further, it is to be served or favored in the administration of any State institution. Both parts and the whole must be served. Agricultural colleges and the other public institutions of the State. I say this emphatically in the name of the people of the State and in accordance with the sentiment of the people of our great Nation. The prestige of the Agricultural college must be enlarged.

Supported by All.

I desire here to impress upon you students an ethical principle suggested by the thought that this institution is supported by all the citizens of the State, because they give to the school financial and moral support. They have certain vested rights in it. Among these is the right to expect the gratitude and respect of those who are benefactors of the State for which these citizens pay, even though some of them may differ with some of you as to the policy of the college, they have a right to hold and even to express their opinions without being subjected to criticism at the hands of those who are receiving of their bounty.

Would Rebuke Language.

Then in a severe tone of voice (The Governor said):

I want to attend the exercises of any State institution, and charges should be made against the Agricultural college, I am sure that it is in the best interests of that institution, or my duty as Governor, to correct and rebuke such offensive language.

People Have Some Right.

Your patriotism for the institution is commendable when expressed in the right way, but it is at least probable that the patriotism of the people of the State is expressed by the giving of money to the support of the schools in as great a way, and their opinions, it seems to me, should be given with consideration and should be treated with respect by you.

Prestige of College.

The prestige of the Agricultural College of Utah must be enlarged and its field of usefulness thoroughly cultivated. Nothing short of this will satisfy those who are supporting it. It is a question of management and policy, they must be expelled.

When Citizens Are Satisfied.

There must be a broad and patriotic grasp of the true needs and work of the college, and a united effort on the part of all concerned to see that the institution is properly managed and that the citizens of the State will be satisfied with the college by the virtue of the eminence it shall reach in the agricultural field.

Kerr's Idea of Board.

After the exercises President A. W. Kerr gave a luncheon which Senator Reed Smoot, Gov. Cutler and Bishop Whitney were invited to meet the members of the board. The guests were somewhat surprised to find that the "members of the board" consisted solely of Bishop Owens and Trustees McAllister, the only members of the board in Logan at that time. Trustee Whitmore having left on the morning train for Salt Lake. The invitation was not without comment because of the fact that the new members of the board, Trustees Gates, Stohl and Smart were all in Logan at the time. The object of the luncheon, it is alleged, was of course not so much a matter of entertainment, or to meet the trustees, as a clever way of getting a chance at the guests in a seemingly innocent manner in order to give him a pull toward the presidency.

Rebuke Interpreted.

Many persons present understood a portion of the Governor's address to be a direct personal rebuke to Walter Porter, one of the graduates, who had read the paper on the sphere of the college, and who had seemed to cast aspersions on some of his allusions upon the State University. At any rate, the Governor's rebuke was heard and the town as nothing in years has done.

Stirs Up the Animals.

"If in his political speech last fall he was unable to stir this community as some would have liked, in this last effort he has succeeded away beyond his expectation," said an influential student of the college to The Tribune after the exercises were over. "To have the chief executive of the State drop down on us in that manner, and in the very midst of commencement, too, proves that he has not the interest of this school in his heart."

Smoot Reads Paper.

The paper read by Senator Smoot to the graduates was burdened by considerable amount of platitudes, and received respectful attention from the class to which the Senator addressed himself.

WORST OVER IN COLORADO.

Flood Situation Still Critical, However, at Some Points.

DENVER, Colo., June 1.—The high water in the rivers and creeks of Colorado is receding gradually, and danger of general floods has passed. However, the situation at several points is still critical. The water works system at Grand Junction and Canon City are threatened with damage by floods in the Grand and Arkansas rivers. Conditions are still bad as far as the railroads are concerned in the southwestern portion of the State.

Alfonso Sees London in Cold, Wet Rain

He Carries Out a Long Programme, However, With Undampened Enthusiasm—Reid at Banquet.

LONDON, June 1.—King Alfonso of Spain saw the sights of the metropolis today in typical London weather. Rain fell all day, accompanied by a chill east wind. The limp decorations gave the entire city a bedraggled and forlorn appearance.

Enjoys Long Programme.

The young monarch, however, carried out a long programme with evident enjoyment. After receiving the diplomatic corps at Buckingham palace, King Alfonso attended mass at the Roman Catholic cathedral at Westminster. Later he visited Westminster abbey, luncheon with the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, and was an interested spectator of the military tournament at Agricultural hall. He gave a reception to Spanish residents and to the Anglo-Spanish and American-Spanish commercial bodies of London at the Spanish embassy, and paid a surprise visit to the House of Parliament, which, however, had adjourned before his arrival.

Banquet Is Notable.

The day concluded with a state banquet at Buckingham palace, which was attended by members of the royal family, the diplomatic corps and practically all the notables in political London.

The banquet was laid at a long table in the picture gallery, and there were covers for 150, the famous gold plate being used. The members of the royal family assembled in the throne room, from which King Alfonso conducted Queen Alexandra and King Edward the Duke of Connaught to the banquet table. The general guests were assembled in the green drawing-rooms. After their majesties and the members of the royal family passed the guests were paired and followed them.

Whitelaw Reid Is There.

Count Wolff Metternich, the German Ambassador, took in Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, and Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador, took in the Duchess of Portland. These guests were to the immediate right of King Alfonso. Others present were Count Mensdorff, the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador, the Duke of Devonshire, the Duke of Norfolk, the Duke of Roxburghe, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke of Gloucester, the Duke of Kent, the Duke of Argyll, the Duke of Atholl, the Duke of Buccleugh, the Duke of Hamilton, the Duke of Marlborough, the Duke of Devonshire, the Duke of Norfolk, the Duke of Roxburghe, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke of Gloucester, the Duke of Kent, the Duke of Argyll, the Duke of Atholl, the Duke of Buccleugh, the Duke of Hamilton, the Duke of Marlborough.

SAYS IT'S RIDICULOUS.

Secretary Wilson Takes no Stock in "Leak" of Cotton Figures.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—At today's Cabinet meeting nothing of importance was considered. At the instance of Secretary Morton, the President signed the orders reinstating Earl Chaffee and John H. Loft to the Naval academy at Annapolis. They were dismissed from the academy on the charge of hazing, and their restoration was provided for by special act of Congress.

Secretary Wilson, at the conclusion of the meeting, said his attention had been called to the charges of the Southern Cotton association that there had been a "leak" in the information gathered by the Agricultural department concerning the cotton crop. He characterized the charges as ridiculous. It was possible, he said, that somebody connected with the department had been pretending to have knowledge of the cotton figures of the department, but as a matter of fact it was practically impossible for anybody to obtain advance information of any value.

Secretary Wilson indicated his intention, however, of instituting an inquiry into the charges with a view of eliminating any possibility of fraud.

Girl Killed by Fall.

THE TIMBER, Mont., June 1.—A fatal accident occurred today to Miss Edna Wadsworth, the fourteen-year-old daughter of G. A. Wadsworth of this city. Miss Wadsworth and her little brother were riding on a horse. A freight train was standing near the crossing, and as the little girl and her brother were passing the engine blew off steam, which frightened the horse, causing it to jump suddenly and dismounting the little girl. She fell heavily to the ground and her head struck on a sharp stone, which crushed her skull.

A HOPELESS FIGHT

It is as impossible to conquer the king of diseases—Contagious Blood Poison—with Mercury and Potash as it would be to conquer the king of the forest in a hand-to-hand encounter, as thousands who have had their health ruined and lives blighted through the use of these minerals will testify. They took the treatment faithfully, only to find when it was left off, the disease returned with more power, combined with the awful effects of these minerals, such as mercurial rheumatism, necrosis of the bones, salivation, inflammation of the stomach and bowels, etc. When the virus of Contagious Blood Poison enters the blood it quickly contaminates every drop of that vital fluid, and every muscle, nerve, tissue and bone becomes affected, and soon the foul symptoms of sore mouth and throat, copper-colored blotches, falling hair and eyebrows, swollen glands, sores, etc., make their appearance. Mercury and Potash can only cover up these evidences for awhile; they cannot cure the disease. S. S. S. has for many years been recognized as a specific for Contagious Blood Poison—a perfect antidote for the deadly virus that is so far-reaching in its effects on the system. S. S. S. does not hide or mask the disease, but so thoroughly and completely cures it that no signs are ever seen again.

S. S. S. while eradicating the poison of the disease will drive out any effects of harmful mineral treatment. A reward of $1,000.00 is offered for proof that S. S. S. contains a mineral ingredient of any kind. Treatise with instructions for home treatment and any advice wished, without charge.

Lighting Business and Legislation

Public Should Be So Well Served Agitation Will Receive No Support, Says Davis.

DENVER, Colo., June 1.—President Ernest H. Davis of the National Light Association, in his address at the opening of the association's twenty-eighth annual convention in this city today, urged the managers of the lighting companies to be reasonable in their charges and faithful in observing the terms of their franchises. He said in part:

One Constant Menace.

The one great and constant menace to the industry is unwise, burdensome and restrictive legislation by the municipality and the State. The right to tax is the power to destroy. The danger of confiscation, in whole or in part, the regulation of the industry by a commission, such as the Massachusetts Gas and Electric commission of the State of Massachusetts may be proper and satisfactory as safeguarding both the rights of the public and of the investor.

Regulation by Commission.

But regulation by a commission brought into being by a manufactured public sentiment and having its inception in politics, and not in any admitted public oppression, or to properly regulate the use of public franchises, cannot be fair either to the public or to the investor, and must result in gross injustice to the industry.

Municipal Ownership.

Another important question is that of municipal ownership, which, while as yet limited generally to the construction and operation by municipalities of plants for public lighting, is being attempted in private commercial lighting, in aid of the public lighting.

Should Live Up to Obligations.

By way of self-protection, the central station should live up to its obligations to the public. Its franchises should furnish public lighting at reasonable rates and serve the public so well that any agitation started for political or personal ends will not receive the support of a justly indignant public.

Advices Consolidation.

While not strictly within the objects of this association, it would be well for our members to consider the advisability of consolidating the street railways, gas and electric companies in any locality, as not only would the public be better served, but the total investment would be more stable and the results equally satisfactory.

President Davis announced that the total membership of the association is now 824, as compared with 583 one year ago.
